Margaret Lindsey or Lindsay was born in 1820 or 1821 in Scotland. She married Robert Easton on Oct. 22, 1842 in Old Monkland, Lanarkshire, Scotland. They joined the LDS (Mormon) Church in the late 1840's, and immigrated to America in 1848.

The passenger list for the ship "Sailor Prince", which sailed from Liverpool Sep. 24, 1848, and arrived in New Orleans Nov. 20, 1848, shows Margaret Easton, 28, Janet Easton, 7, Elizabeth Easton, 5, and Robert Easton, infant. The father, Robert, apparently traveled separately.

Margaret died in the cholera epidemic in St. Louis, Missouri, before they could earn enough money to cross the plains to Utah. "A Mournful Elegy on the Unfortunate Victims, Who Fell Sacrifices to the Ravages of That Fell Destroyer, the Asiatic Cholera, at the Gravois Coal Diggings, Near St. Louis, Mo., June and July, 1849", by John Russel, "teacher in the doomed district", shows that "Margaret Easton, 30, wife of Robert, and child" were among the victims. She was buried in the old German Cemetery (Picker's) on Gravois Road, where her name was recorded German-style: Margaretha Easton, age 28, died June 29, 1849.
