A Compilation of General Voyage Notes

"EMIGRATION. -- The fine ship Norfolk, Captain Elliot, sailed from this port on the 19th September, under very favorable circumstances, at a quarter past three p.m., having on board about 143 souls put on by us. We rejoice to see so practical an illustration of the faith of the Saints being unshaken by the late tragical events in the West, and that the Saints are not living according to the precepts of men, but the word of the Lord. Any anxious to emigrate about the 12th instant, can have an opportunity of doing so, by making early application. Early in January next we expect to charter a ship, and should be glad to receive notice as soon as possible of all who intend to go at that time." "TWENTY EIGHTH COMPANY. -- Norfolk, 143 souls . . . This was the first ship load of Saints sent out from England after the martyrdom of the Prophet Joseph Smith. Proceeding up the river, a number of the emigrants found it necessary, for the lack of means, to settle down temporarily at St. Louis, Missouri, while all who were able, continued to Nauvoo." "Thurs. 19. [Sep. 1844] -- The ship Norfolk sailed from Liverpool with 143 Saints, bound for Nauvoo."

William and Mary Ann Cooper Family

. . . Like most of the new converts, William and Elizabeth [Cooper] had the desire to gather with the main body of the LDS Church, which was then in Nauvoo, Illinois on the bank of the Mississippi River. In spite of their prosperity and the pleadings of both of their families not to leave, they left England in the early autumn of 1844. They brought their two little girls, Mary three and Hannah almost two, leaving the grave of 17 month old Richard who died on the 26 day of January 1841, the day after Mary was born.

They were nine weeks on the ocean coming to America. A baby boy was born to William and Elizabeth on board the sailing vessel Norfolk. They named him Joseph Eliot Norfolk Turpin, Joseph for the LDS prophet, Eliot the captain of the ship and Norfolk the ship itself.

On landing in America at the mouth of the Mississippi River, they traveled by steamboat to Nauvoo, arriving late in the fall of 1844; a few months after the death of the Mormon prophet, Joseph Smith. . . . [p.11]
